The secret in art is something you do not look for,
it is something you find.
(Pablo Picasso)

I am influenced by numerous journeys through the south and north of Africa and by the momentum of every day's life, where colors become something very important and sensual to me.

My inspiration is focused on imaginary worlds, as well as in variety of cultures. I feel a strong connection between art and the experience of life.

The paintings I do, originate in my feelings, seeing and personal experiences. My paintings emerge out of curiosity and the need to look close into secrets.
